

MOTHER SPURNED IN COURT BY GIRL SHE HAD "LOANED"

Nine-Year-Old Child, Dressed
Like Rich Doll, Clings to Chosen "Papa."

Because Magistrate Appleton, in the Morristown Court, today declined to act in the role of King Solomon, little nine-year old Theresa Mary Geraghty will remain with her foster parents until the Justice of the Supreme Court decides whether she is to go back to her mother or, as she wishes, she is to remain with the childless couple who raised her.

Mrs. Mary O'Hare, of No. 62 East One Hundred and Thirty-ninth street, Brooklyn, was the complainant against Charles Coords, a wealthy blacksmith of No. 309 Webster avenue, whom she charged with withholding her child.

Mrs. O'Hare, in tears and almost hysterical, told Magistrate Appleton that when Geraghty, her first husband, who worked for Coords, died, she was left with three children. The Coords couple asked for little Theresa.

"I knew they could give her a good home," sobbed Mrs. O'Hare, "so I permitted them to take her. But I didn't give my girl to them; I only let them raise her until I could care for her. I couldn't give my daughter away like that. Judge, now I have married John O'Hare, a blacksmith, who works for Mr. Coords, too, and Mr. and Mrs. Coords won't give my little Theresa back, though my husband will care for her."

"This is a case for the Supreme Court," said Magistrate Appleton. "I have no jurisdiction."

As she left court, Mrs. O'Hare approached her daughter, who was sitting at the side of Mrs. Coords. The pretty little girl, dressed in the finest of lace and looking like a big Dresden doll, abashed from her mother.

"What's the matter with you, Theresa?" called Mrs. O'Hare. "Come to your mother, girl."

Instead the child dashed for Coords, caught the big blacksmith about the legs and clung tightly to him.

"Don't let them take me away from you," she wailed. "I want to stay with you."

"They have poisoned my child's mind against me," shrieked Mrs. O'Hare, and rushed again for the girl. She was restrained by court officers and led from the court.

Coords declared the mother had given the child to him and that she had a good home. "I love her and so does my wife," he said, "and we are going to fight to keep her."

Mrs. O'Hare said she would appeal to the Supreme Court.

Former Coroner's Widow Says "Estate" May Be Lost.

Mrs. Lillian Acrielli of No. 73 Ninety-first street, Brooklyn, wife of former Coroner Peter F. Acrielli, who died March 2 in the Brooklyn Eye and Ear Hospital, applied to Surrogate Ketcham in Brooklyn today for letters of administration for his estate, which she said is less than $100.

Acrielli, who was a Deputy State Fire Marshal, died after injuries received in a fall from a berth in a Pullman car while on his way to Albany on Lincoln's Birthday.

GOT THE GRIP?

Here is a Simple Home Remedy that Will Cure You in a Hurry

"Got the grippe?" It's fashionable, but very miserable, nevertheless. The doctors say it is epidemic. Here is a prescription that is working more cures than all the drugs under the sun. You can mix it at home for yourself. A teaspoonful every four hours will break up the worst case inside of a few hours.

Shake together in a large bottle two ounces of glycerine, eight ounces of pure whiskey and one-half ounce virgin oil of pine. You can get the ingredients from any drugstore. Be careful to secure only the genuine virgin oil of pine, which you can identify by the sealed wooden carton bearing the name of the Leach Chemical Company, of Cincinnati, on the label. Put up in this form the essential properties of the virgin oil of pine are absolutely preserved and the effectiveness of the medicine is assured.

There will be quite a little of the medicine left over after your grippe has been cured. This will serve as the most effective and reliable remedy for the whole family for months to come.

2000 House Dresses from a Celebrated Maker Will Occupy Cross Aisle, Main Floor, Tomorrow

These Well-Made Dresses Will Be Sold At $1.50, $2, $2.25, $3 and $3.75

While these dresses reflect the new style tendencies they may be fittingly called practical. However, they are modest enough to wear out of doors, in town or country, this Summer.

We are not boastful in saying that these are the best Dresses of their kind—being the well-known "Make"—although we must refrain from mentioning the name of these Dresses, nearly every woman will know what it is, when we say that each seam and hem and every detail is as carefully finished as the home dressmaker would have them, that materials are the best possible quality and that designs and colorings are conservative, and that all the Dresses were carefully ironed and folded before they were permitted to leave the hygienic and shiny factory in which they were made.

One style, at $2.25, fastens all the way down the front—this means that the skirt as well as the waist may be opened for laundering. You may select it in either black-and-white striped percale, or cadet blue with white pencil-stripe gingham.

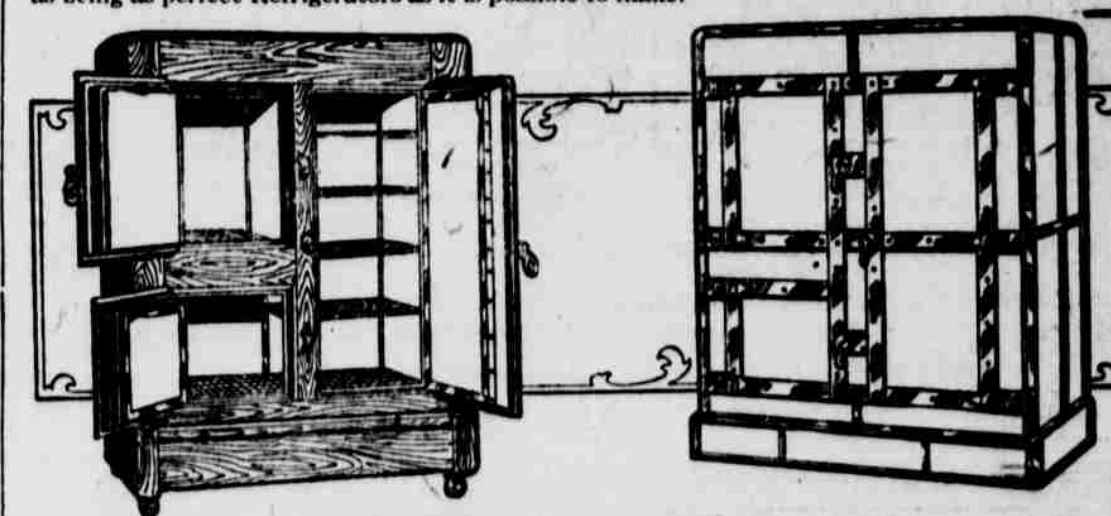

Some of the Dresses are trimmed with pipings of contrasting colors, others with touches of embroidery—nearly all of them have the new set-in sleeves. As these Dresses are in demi-tailored styles they are of either percale or gingham—and there are eight styles.

Very seldom do we give an entire aisle over to an event, but the magnitude and the importance of this sale warrants our doing so. Rear Cross Aisle, Main Fl.
